

Motorola A920

Throw out your preconceived notions about what your mobile phone can do for you. The Motorola A920 is the ultimate dexterous wireless tool for navigating a fast-paced mobile lifestyle. Operating on the trailblazing 3G technology platform, the model A920 is a multi-tasker's dream device combining phone capabilities with the power of full Internet browsing, games galore, MP3 music, streaming video and PDA functionality. What more could you ask for? Just power up and get prepared for mobile madness.

And...action!

An embedded camera will come in handy when trying to capture life's most precious or embarrassing moments. Capture video or instantly send a slide show of pictures to loved ones to update them on your latest adventures.

Pull a Fast One

Thanks to 3G technology the model A920 allows voice, data and video services to be transmitted at lightening fast speeds. Take advantage of rapid data speeds by downloading songs or games, while simultaneously surfing the Web for financial news.¹

Here's Lookin' at You

The video phone is finally here -- now you can actually see who you're talking to with the A920's vivid color screen. Featuring videophone capabilities, the model A920 allows users to communicate with audio and visual with friends who have compatible phones.

Board Room Ready

PDA functionality and handwriting recognition on the model A920 let professionals jot down an important date or contact name in a split second. With an integrated speakerphone, your mobile is ready for a quick conference call any time night or day. Perfect for business execs when they are out of the office.

Sync Up Your Life

Make the most out of the Motorola A920 with its synchronizing capabilities. The sleek handset plays nicely with most PCs and PDAs to make sharing data such as schedules, tasks and contacts a breeze.

Just Do It

Take charge of your phone by programming each feature to recognize the sound of your voice. No need to fumble for the keypad in the dark anymore. Voice dialing and menu shortcuts allow you to blindly navigate through every feature to things done on your demand.
