

MOTOROLA V.SERIES™ 66 PHONE

A phone for trend setters who impact culture by expressing their own individual style, the Motorola V.series™ 66 is the smallest tri-band phone with GPRS technology contained within Motorola's iconic clamshell design.

Product Information

- GSM tri-band GPRS handset for fast access to the Internet
- Exquisite design in a sleek device
- 96 X 64mm display with easy to use interface
- Customised look with six interchangeable front insert accessories
- User selectable tri-colour backlit display
- Voice activated dialling
- VoiceNotes™ digital voice recorder allows users to record up to three minutes of conversation
- VibraCall™ discreet alert
- 32 pre-set ringer alerts
- iTAP™ predictive texting for improved speed and efficiency
- Organiser with PIM functionality
- TrueSync™ Synchronisation between a desktop PC or other devices
- Real time clock, currency converter and calculator
- FM Radio accessory
- Games
- Available in two colours: Silver and Radar Blue
- Size: 84 x 44 x 21 mm, 65 cc, 79 gms
- Standby time of up to 50-120
- Talktime of up to 120-180 mins
- Expected to be available from the second quarter of 2001