

Motorola V70

A Motomovel has arrived with the Motorola V70. Incorporating a never-before-seen rotating cover and circular display, the Motorola V70 exudes style and sophistication. The Motorola V70 blends design and fashion with function for the style-minded consumer who wants the most progressive and avant-garde mobile device. Additionally, the small and lightweight model V70 offers a full range of communication and entertainment features. Rotating heads will become the norm for those who dare to embrace it.

Your Phone, Your Way

Create a unique look for your Motorola V70 by changing the display bezels, organizing the menu to suit your needs and customizing 32 of your own ring tones.

Motostyle

Users will fall in love with the blue electro-luminescent (EL) MotoGlo emanating through the translucent keypad. A spotlight on style and fashion is obvious everywhere.

With One Hand Behind Your Back

The Motorola V70's one-of-a-kind exterior allows the user to open the rotating cover with one hand or keep it closed to answer or place a call with the hands-free accessory. Or, with one touch of the model V70's voice-activation key, get your friends on the line with a single word.

Talk or Text

When you are ready to hit the town, bring your friends together with a quick conference call on the Motorola V70. Or, save your vocal cords and let your fingers do the talking by sending out an SMS* text message to one or 10 of your closest friends.

Not Now, Please

With the Motorola V70, you never have to take any unexpected calls. Check the exterior caller ID* before answering your phone, allowing you to pick-and-choose who interrupts your day.

Always On

The Motorola V70 is powered with the latest technology, offering "always on, always connected" Internet access*, eliminating the need for dial-up and providing high-speed data service for sending and receiving information. Some people call this GPRS; we call this fabulous.

Sync Me Up

Built for more than just phone conversations, the MotorolaV70 works with TrueSync® software to sync with your PC or PIM for mobile organization. Transferring data from your PC to your 1,000 entries for Latin-based characters or 500 entries for Asian-based characters entry phonebooks is nice and easy.

More than Just Calls

Use the optional FM Stereo Radio Headset accessory to listen to your favorite tunes or play one of the built-in games to pass the time. The calculator and currency converter proves that this phone is smart fashion, in the palm of your hand.

* Network and subscription dependent feature. Not available in all areas.

 Designed to synchronize with basic features of the initial release of many popular Personal Information Management (PIM) software and hardware products.