- Up Close and Personal

The Motorola A845 makes wireless communication a full sensory experience by adding sight to sound – now you can actually see who you're talking to. Featuring videophone capabilities, the model A845 allows users to communicate using voice and body language with friends who have compatible phones*. Capture "can't miss" moments using the integrated camera and send them to friends' compatible phones or PCs – after all, seeing really is believing.

- Passing Notes Has Never Been So Fun

Using advanced messaging capabilities and 3G/UMTS technology, get your thoughts across by sending extravagant messages to your friends' compatible phones or PCs that include songs, videos, pictures, ring tones or applications*. The Motorola A845 brings new meaning to staying connected!

- Don't Dread Downtime

Take downtime up a notch with the model A845, providing the latest in mobile Web surfing, gaming, music and video capabilities. Listen to your favorite artist on the integrated MP3 player or use the turbo data speeds of 3G/UMTS to take full advantage of downloadable games and applications*, even if you're on a call. With up to 64MB of memory, you won't have to worry about running out of space.

- On the Move and in the Know

Featuring aGPS, the Motorola A845 can help you find your favorite stores or restaurants at a moment's notice*. Want to be alerted if you pass a great sale at your favorite store? You've got it – the model A845 will navigate the way!* And, featuring Bluetooth® wireless technology, the model A845 connects wirelessly and securely to Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled hands-free devices allowing for even safer communication when on the move.

The Motorola A845 is expected to be available in the United States with the launch of AT&T Wireless' UMTS/WCDMA network in 2H 2004.
