

MOTOROLA V1050

Socially skilled and technologically sophisticated, the Motorola V1050 leverages 3G technology to deliver a powerful multimedia experience. A large color screen sets the stage for connecting via 2-way video calling¹, displaying crisp photos taken with the 1.3 mega-pixel camera and experiencing a mobile cinema by viewing your favourite music videos and movies. Want more? The integrated MP3 player promises supreme listening enjoyment of full tracks and downloadable¹ games keep you engaged during downtime.

For Your Viewing Pleasure

With the ultra powerful Motorola V1050, enjoy the benefits of 3G technology – from face-to-face interaction via 2-way video conferencing¹ to catching the latest music video from your favorite band – viewed either in portrait or landscape modes. Video record and playback lets you capture action-packed moments and relive them at leisure. And if it's one specific moment you want to freeze, the 1.3 megapixel camera with LED photo indicator light and zoom depicts the image beautifully.

Things that Go BOOM

With an integrated MP3 player and stereo headset, the Motorola V1050 provides a rich sound experience. This mobile phone also offers a plethora of downloadable¹ games. And, don't worry, there's plenty of room for music, videos, photos and games thanks to the optional TransFlash™ memory card, offering up to an additional 256 megabytes (MB) of removable memory.

Practical Purposes, Wicked Style

Rich in style and practical functionality, the Motorola V1050 delivers an integrated speakerphone, a WAP 2.0 Internet browser¹ and Multimedia Messaging Service (MMS)¹ with message receipt for sharing photos, videos and music with your circle of friends. Its silky soft-touch finish makes this mobile the ideal accessory. Affordably chic, yet high in functionality, the Motorola V1050 suits your style savvy and connectivity desires.
